

Oil Painting Demonstration by Jules Landry

How to get the correct
Proportions, Values and
Edges in your Paintings

Jules was born in Grand Barachois, NB, in 1953. He held different kinds of jobs before he decided to dedicate himself exclusively to art. Jules works in oils, charcoal and pastel in a studio near his home. Self-taught, he learned to paint by daily practicing and improving his drawing skills, developing a keen sense of observation.

Jules finds time to teach drawing to several students of art and is currently tutoring twenty five artists and future artists. He has had four solo exhibitions of his art and has participated in several group shows as well. His art is available through the Lighthouse Gallery in Moncton, Miramichi and now at the Heron Bay Gallery in Shediac.
